KATEKA, James L.

(United Republic of Tanzania)

James L. Kateka was born on 29 April, 1945 in Karagwe District, Tanzania.

He holds degrees in law. He received an LL.B (Hons) from the Dar es Salaam University College of the (then) University of East Africa (1970) and an LL.M (International Law) from King's College, University of London (1974). He is a partner in the law firm of South Law Chambers which is based in Dar es Salaam.

He attended school at Nyakahanga Primary School in Karagwe, from 1952 to 1955 (Standard I to IV). He studied at Mugeza Middle School in Bukoba from 1956 to 1959 (Standard V to VIII). He had his high school education at Tabora School from 1960 to 1965. There, he obtained his Cambridge School Certificate in 1963 and the Cambridge Higher School Certificate in 1965. Thereafter he went to university.

Ambassador James L. Kateka is a member of the UN International Law Commission (1997-2006). As a member of the Commission, he has made considerable contribution to the codification and progressive development of international law on various topics, including State Responsibility, Reservations to treaties, Diplomatic Protection, Nationality in relation to the succession of States and International liability for injurious consequences arising out of acts not prohibited by international law. He was a Vice Chairman of the Commission (2002) and Chairman of the Drafting Committee (2003) at the 54th and 55th sessions, respectively.

He is a judge ad hoc of the International Court of Justice in the case concerning Armed Activities on the Territory of the Congo (DRC v. Uganda).

James L. Kateka is a career diplomat who joined the Tanzania Ministry of Foreign Affairs on 23 March, 1970. He is the Dean of Tanzania's Ambassadors (since March 2004). He is currently Tanzania's Ambassador to Sweden (since 1998) with residence in Stockholm where he is the Dean of the diplomatic corps (since October 2003). He is concurrently accredited to other Nordic countries of Denmark, Finland, Norway and Iceland and the Baltic Republics of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. He was Tanzania's Ambassador to the Russian Federation from 1994 to 1998. Before going to Moscow he was the Ambassador of Tanzania to the Federal Republic of Germany for five years from 1989 to 1994 with residence in Bonn. He was concurrently accredited to Austria, the Holy See, Poland, Romania and Switzerland.

Mr. Kateka was Director of the Legal Department of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs from 1983 to 1989. During his tenure as Legal Adviser, he was involved in the negotiations of several bilateral and multilateral treaties. He took part in the drafting of the Tanzania legislation to incorporate into national law the 1961 and 1963 Vienna Conventions on Diplomatic and Consular Relations, respectively. He participated in the preparation of the legislation that established the national environment management council. He was also instrumental in drafting the legislation on the territorial sea and the exclusive economic zone of Tanzania.

From 1980 to 1983, James L. Kateka was Head of the Treaties Section (first as Minister Counsellor and later promoted to Minister Plenipotentiary). In that capacity he served as custodian and depositary of treaties that Tanzania is party to. He compiled and prepared for publication bilateral treaties.

As Legal Adviser to the Tanzania Mission to the United Nations (1976 to 1980) James L. Kateka was involved in drafting numerous resolutions in the Sixth Committee. He took part in the negotiations of the Convention against the taking of hostages. He was the Rapporteur of the Ad hoc Committee on International Terrorism (1977 – 1979). In 1976 when Tanzania was a member of the UN Security Council, James L. Kateka chaired the Sanctions Committee of the UN on S. Rhodesia under Resolution 253 (1968). He took part in the Special Committee on the Charter, UNCITRAL, the Mercenaries Committee and the Ad hoc Committee on the Indian Ocean as a zone of peace.

From 1971 to 1973 Mr Kateka took part in the deliberations of the UN Committee on the Peaceful Uses of the Seabed and the Ocean Floor beyond Limits of National Jurisdiction. He participated in all sessions of the Third UN Conference on the Law of the Sea from 1973 to 1982. He contributed to the adoption of parts XII and XIII on the preservation of the marine environment and marine scientific research, respectively. Between 1983 and 1993 he attended all sessions of the UN Preparatory Commission for the International Seabed Authority and the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea. He was involved in the negotiations for the resolution of conflicts among pioneer investors in seabed mining. He attended twelve sessions of the UN General Assembly (1976 – 1988). He played an active role in the first and second special sessions of the General Assembly on Disarmament (23 May to 4 July 1978 and 7 June to 10 July 1982, respectively).

James L. Kateka has participated in many international conferences, including the 1972 Stockholm Conference on the Human Environment,the London Conference on the Anti-dumping Convention, the 1985 Nairobi Convention for the Protection, Management, and Development of the Marine and Coastal Environment of the Eastern African Region, the 1973 IMO Conference that adopted the Marine Pollution Convention, the UN Conference that adopted the 1978 Vienna Convention on the succession of states in respect of treaties. He served as a member of the UNEP International Group of Experts on Environmental Dispute Avoidance and Settlement from 1998 to 1999 (the report of the experts was submitted to the 20th session of the UNEP Governing Council). He also participated in a UNEP meeting of experts on liability and compensation for environmental damage in May 2002 in Geneva.

Ambassador Kateka has written numerous articles for various legal publications and has given lectures on international law. The topics covered include the law of the sea, human rights, environmental law and the work of the UN International Law Commission.

He was awarded the Papal Honour of the Grand Cross with the Star of the Order of Pius IX in 1993 by Pope John Paul II.

He is married to Adolphine (née Gabone) who is an economist. They have a son, Kahabuka Edward who is a lawyer.
